GARFIELD GLEANER

January, 1941

THIS BOOK IS DEDICATED TO THE MEMORY OF

MISS ANNIE MILLS FRASER

BELOVED TEACHER AND FRIEND OF GARFIELD

This spring a sun-dial will be erected in Garfield Court to the memory of Miss Fraser.

THE PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The two prime factors of the three which enter into the makeup of a successful school are an alert student body and a good teaching staff. Even with a poor school plant, a good student body and able teachers can graduate students of outstanding merit. But the Garfield Jr. High (I learned before going to Thousand Oaks) is happily blessed by being made up of the triple combination of superior student body, competent faculty, and adequate school plant as well.

With continued cooperation between students and faculty, Garfield Jr. High will for many, many years continue to graduate students who are successful in their work and able to play an important part in the big things of the future.

What school man would not be filled with delight on returning to be the leader of such an unbeatable combination? That was my privilege at the beginning of this fall. I am happy to say that at the end of my first term, the thrill of home coming is still great.

Your Principal,

Oliver C. Lawson

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Garfield has made history.

This past semester, for the first time in the history of Garfield, or in the history of any other public school in Berkeley, we have had a 100% student body card sale. Not only did every student buy a card, but every member of the faculty as well. This shows true Garfield spirit.

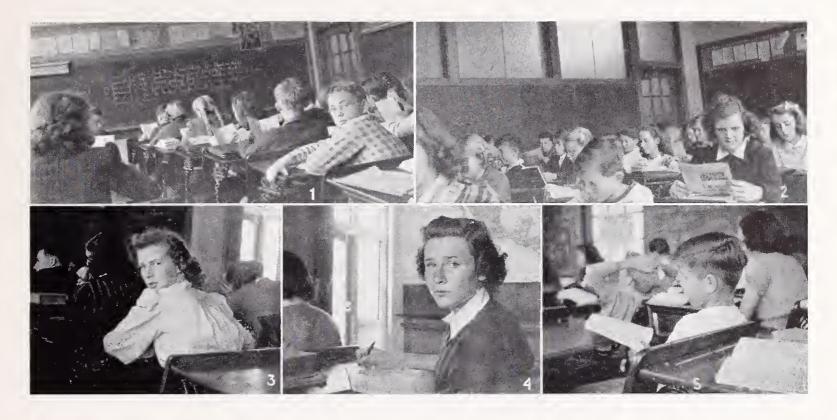

This difficult feat could not have been accomplished if all the student body and faculty had not worked together.

If Garfield is to continue as one of the best junior high schools in the state of California, we must all work together to keep it on top, as it is now.

This year was the first time Garfield has had a 100% card sale, but it will not be the last, if the spirit which has been shown this past semester is kept alive, and I am sure in the future it will become a tradition.

BOYS' ASSOCIATION

Due to an influenza epidemic this term we (The Boys' Association) have not been able to do much for the boys of this school. But we have been able to get a disinfectant for the feet of the boys before they take a shower in the gym. It will be installed before the new term starts. The School Board would not allow the programs we had scheduled, because of the epidemic.

JOE LEVY.

GIRLS' ASSEMBLIES

The Girls' Association had four assemblies this term.

The first was the Big Sisters' Party on September 6. Each big sister took her little sister to a program in the auditorium and then to refreshments in the cafeteria.

The second program was a quiz contest. The winning representative for the H8 was awarded two movie tickets and the other contestants were given pies.

The third assembly was held on girls' Jinx Day. The girls had a program in the auditorium.

The fourth program was a fashion show. The girls were shown clothes that they could make for themselves in sewing or at home.

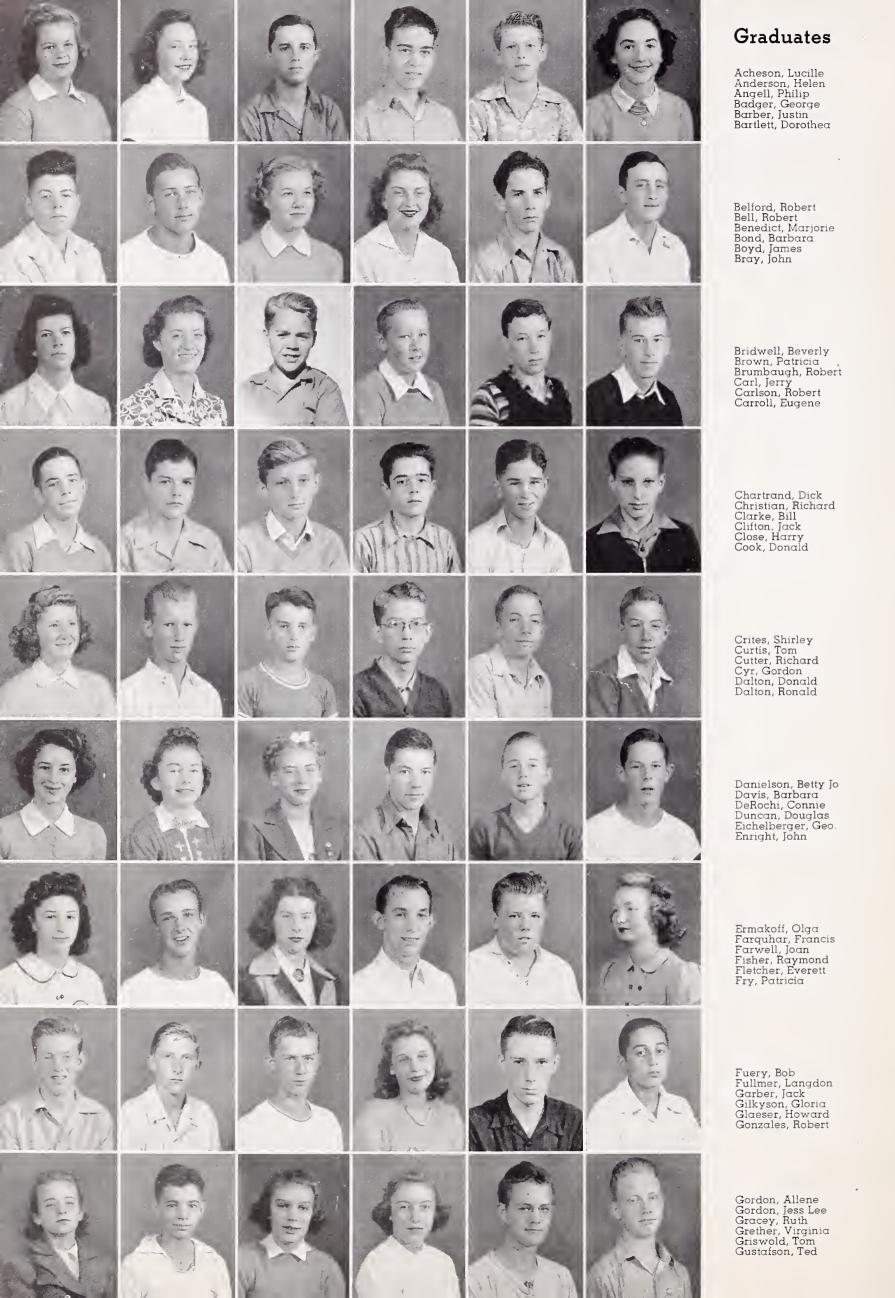

GIRLS' ASSOCIATION QUIZ SHOW

High Eighth wins Quiz Show! On October 25, the Girls' Association had a Quiz Show. A girl from each grade answered questions on any subject. First prize was two tickets to a theatre, good at any time. The second prize was candy, and the remaining prizes were pies.

Elizabeth Thrall: "What do you think of the Grand Canyon?"

Lois Morrison: "Gorges! Just gorges!"

Ray Fisher: "Well, old man, I'm afraid you're licked now."

Willie Laws (gazing dizzily across to opposite corner): "Yeah, I should have got him in the first round when he was alone."

Jim Robertson: "Waitress, what's wrong with these eggs?"

Waitress (Helen Baker): "I don't know. I just laid the table."

"Opium is a drug taken from the center of an Oriental."

Jackie Harvie: "When I woke up this morning I found all the bedclothes wound tightly around me."

Jacque Nevis: "My, you must have slept like a top."

Miss Riley: "What do you mean, saying that Benedict Arnold was a janitor?"

Betty Shannon: "Well, the book says that after his exile, he spent the rest of his life in abasement."

Joe Levy: "Why do you prefer blondes?"
Albert Kass: "Don't tell anybody, but I'm afraid of the dark."

Ellene Johnson (aged 14, combing hair): "Mama, what makes my hair crack when I comb it?"

Mama: "Why, dear, you have electricity in your hair."

Ellene: "Aren't we a funny family? I've got electricity in my hair, and Dad has gas on his stomach."

I went out walking I day and met 3 beggars: to the 1st I gave 10c and to the 2nd I gave 10c and to the 3rd I gave but 5c. What time of day was it? A quarter to three.

FLAG RAISING

To each true American our flag means more than just three colors of cloth sewed together. It is a symbol. This symbol may best be represented by the three items which Americans love and appreciate most. These items are Freedom, Equality, and Justice.

In this time of crisis Americans are becoming more and more conscious of their flag and of their country. It is for this reason that Garfield students pay tribute to their flag at the flagraising ceremony each morning. Every week a different group of Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, or Girl Reserves takes charge of the ceremonies. On special occasions a silk flag is used. These special occasions are attended by the entire school. They occur about twice a term.

In this manner Garfield students pay tribute to their country and to their flag each morning.

VERA STOECKLE.

MY DESTINY

One day I started off to school, A happy girl was I, For that day I was entering, Garfield Junior High.

Now they give me science,
"Woe is me," I sigh,
Three years I'll work my head off
To enter Berkeley High.

POLLY PARKER, L7.

THE RUBBER BAND

Whiz! There goes a rubber band
Off his little chubby hand.
Whiz! Here comes the rubber back.
He ducks, but something seems to lack.
Whiz! The rubber's off once more,
But this time it hits the floor.
Then the teacher happens by.
So he makes up an alibi.
And it's very good, so then,
Whiz! The rubber's off again!
BOB MORRISON, L7.

ODE TO A SCHOOL DESK

Oh, school desk of strong wood,
Carved upon with writing good.
Sat upon by squirming boys,
Played upon with childish toys.
Loaded down with chewing gum,
Lacerated by children dumb.
Pushed and mashed with elbows,
Kicked and smashed with little toes,
Stained with ink by tiny hands,
I can't see why that desk stands.
ROBIN PENNELL, L8.

Carolyn Palmgren (to pilot): "You'll bring me back safely, won't you?"

Pilot: "Have no fear, madam. I've never left anyone up there yet."

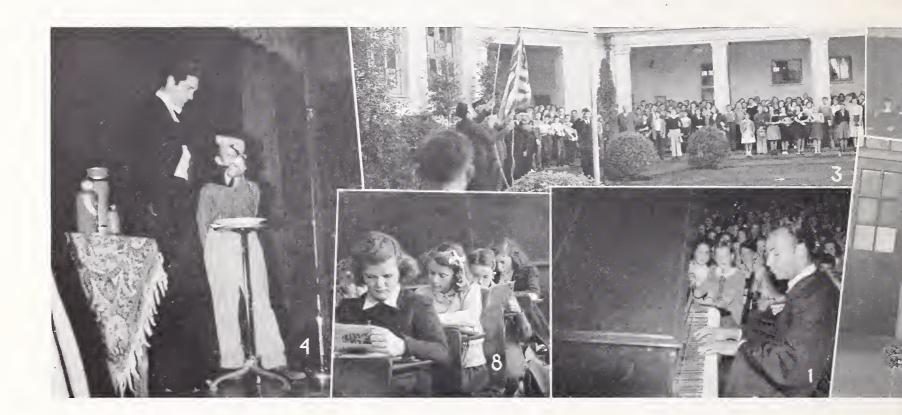

A collegian sent his brother this telegram: "Flunked out. Am coming home. Prepare Papa."

Two hours later he got this reply from his brother: "Papa prepared. Prepare yourself."

Tom Curtis: "See that drum? My great-grand-father used it in the Revolutionary War."

Jacque Nevis: "Yes, and I suppose he beat it when he saw the enemy."

TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT

I sneaked into class, and very quietly and sedately took my seat, which is very unusual as I most often wander around the room and gossip with my friends, if there is any time left before the second bell.

I set my face with the most angelic expression I could possibly make, and took out my books to study my lessons. I had even removed my gum before entering the room. I suppose you have already guessed the reason for my being so good! That's right—I hadn't done my homework!

A few people attempted to converse with me, but I politely told them to be quiet, and that the second bell had already rung. All this went on under the approving eye of the teacher, and twice she nodded her approval.

. When the class had settled down, we started in on the lesson. I took out my pencil and pretended to check it, all the time hoping and praying that the teacher wouldn't call on me. I must have asked my neighbors at least a dozen times for the time, but it seemed as if the period would never end. I just crossed my fingers and waited. Then it came—it would happen to me! The teacher called my name!

I was frantic, my breath was coming in short pants, and my hands were shaking. When I had just decided to be gallant and confess—the bell rang! I breathed a sigh of relief, and weakly wiped my brow. I don't believe that I ever went out of a class as fast as I did then.

MARY ILMA COSTIGAN.

FACE WASHING

Three times a day and sometimes more,
My face is washed until it's sore.
I don't quite see why it should be,
But mother says that others see.
So it's soap and water, scrub and rub,
And then sometimes, the big white tub.
If they don't stop, my poor old face
Will surely wear away some place.
WALTER ALEXANDER FIKSO, L8.

Why is a lady who faints in a public place like a good intention? Because she needs carrying out.

THE SNAIL

The snail,
He has a pair of horns,
Likewise a slippery tail,
And on the walls on which he crawls,
He leaves a slimy trail.

The snail,
He takes his house along,
On every trip he takes,
I think it's very probable,
That he's afraid of snakes.

The snail,
He is so very small,
He does not seem to count at all,
But yet he's public nuisance ten,
Especially to gardening men.
MICHAIL McGIFFERT, L7.

THE MOON'S FLEET

An Admiral brave is the man in the moon As he sails the heavenly sea, And the dark storm clouds are his battle ships That move with majesty!

The white sails of his little boats Go skimming along through space, To form in line with the men of war, And prepare for the battle race!

His monitor is the black wind clouds,
Whose raveled fringes fly
Like puffs of smoke,
As silently they sail the darkening sky.
PATTY RICHARDS, H7.

Lloyd McDonald: "Teeth."

Miss Lowrey: "Teeth? What kind of an organ would teeth be?"

Lloyd: "Grind organ."

Book Agent (to farmer): "You ought to buy an encyclopedia, now that your boy is going to school."

Farmer: "Not on your life! Let him walk, the same as I did."

THE ICE CREAM MAN

The ice cream man all dressed in white On summer days is a pleasant sight. His bell rings merrily down the street, To tell the children where to meet. "Ice cream for sale!" he yells with glee, And all the youngsters run to see. His ice cream comes out smoking cold And sweet to taste and cool to hold. Each child, a nickel clutching tight, Runs out when he comes into sight. But horrors! Oh, it isn't funny—Suppose you hadn't any money!

WALTER ALEXANDER FIKSO, L8.

FIRST DATE

Oh dear! my hair won't stay in place, What side shall I put my bow? My dress is crooked, my socks not straight, My stars, I'll be late for the show!

My lipstick smeared when I put on my coat,
The perfume has spilled on my dress,
What will HE say when he sees me this way?
Quick, mom, help a maid in distress!
LOEL MARSTON, L8.

THE WOODS

In the quiet wood I lie awake
Faint firelight flick'ring gently on my face
All is still—no creature stirs and
Heaven is in this lovely place.

The moss is nature's own soft bed The stars are lanterns cool and bright And tall, proud trees are swaying In the soft and pale moonlight.

The fire grows lower, lower, now
A dove from far off faintly cries
And now a cloud steals o'er the moon
Tired and weary, I close my eyes.
LUCRETIA PRENTISS, H7.

Warden (sighing): "Yes, she was hanged in China."

Visitor: "Shanghai?" Warden: "Not very."

REPORT CARDS

Oh, grades—they never bother me For I get good ones oft, you see, Though not at all because I'm smart For grades, like flirting, are an art.

My arts are practised not so hard When B's are sometimes on my card. Says Dod to Mom, "That grade should be An A, for look whose child is she."

And so in order to get praise
I sought to fill my card with A's.
I watched in Alg. my y's and x's.
In English pronouns and syntaxes;
I studied hard my verbs in Lat.
Told thin teachers they were getting fat,
And fat ones they were losing weight;
I did not talk—was seldom late.
Told this one that her dress was pretty
And smiled at other's jokes (unwitty);
Played noon leagues to impress Miss Stout,
Ripped crooked stitches, in sewing, out.

Worked and slaved—late burned my light. For band I practised every night.

And for this all I found work pays
And marched home proudly with six A's.

Six A's—I would get praise for that.

I turned my back for Mom to pat.

Instead of that, what did I rate?

"Two A's are MINUSES. They should be STRAIGHT."

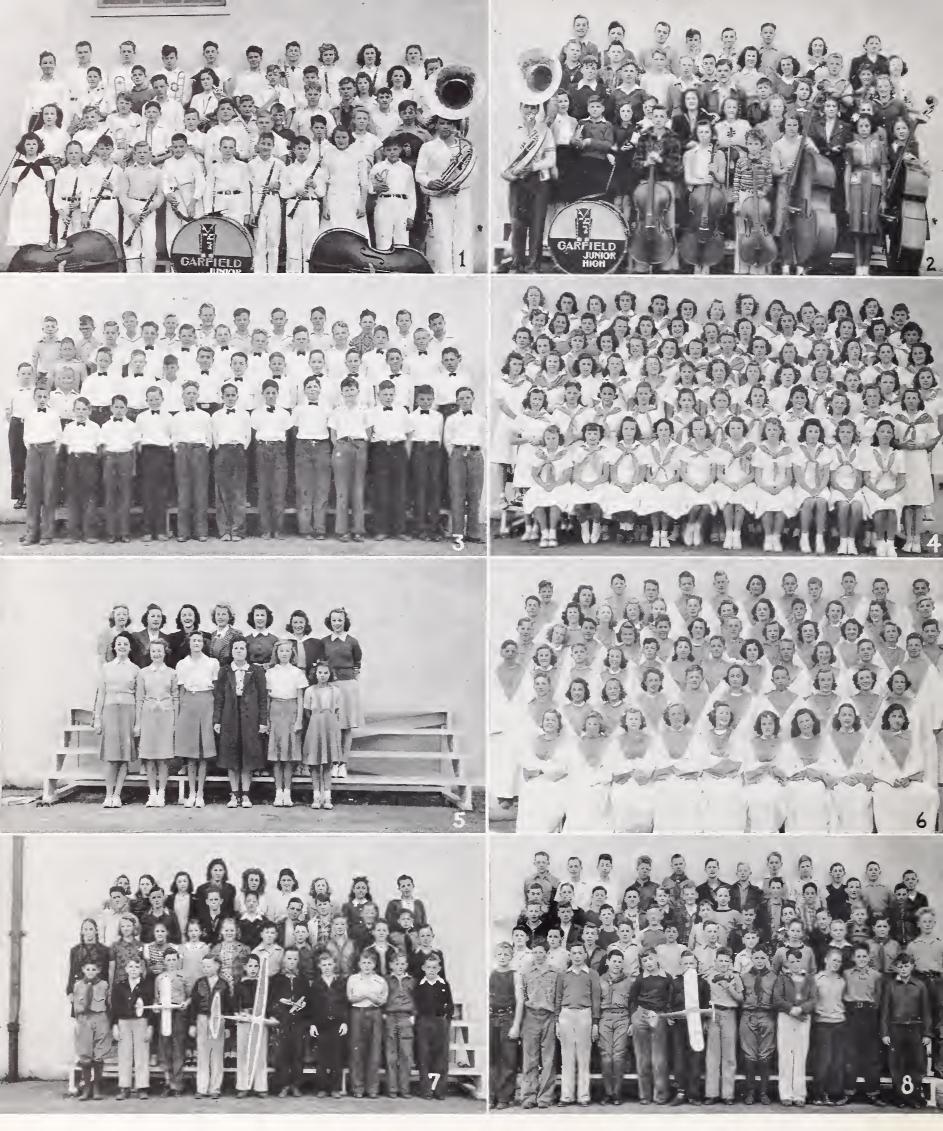

IRENE BRADFIELD, L9.

Ohioan: "Out here in Ohio we grow very large vegetables."

Brooklynite: "That's nothing. Why in Noo York we grow such large vegetables that 20 policemen can stand on one beat."

Bob Hand: "Say, waiter, this chicken has no wishbone."

Howard Gleaser (the Waiter): "He was a happy and contented fowl, sir, and had nothing to wish for."

MUSIC

A CAPPELLA

Mrs. Smith did a good job this term with the A Cappella. They were scheduled to do some singing at the Elks' Club, but because of the influenza epidemic, it was postponed. They did go up to the 20th Century Club and sing Christmas Carols. These selections were enjoyed very much. January 10th they sang in the Auditorium for the High 6th grade who were visiting at the school that afternoon.

RUTH JOHNSON.

THE GIRLS' GLEE

The Girls' Glee Club, under the able direction of Mrs. Young, has accomplished a great deal. They sang for the P.-T. A. on January 6, 1941. They were so good that little groups of Garfield students stood around outside the door listening until they were shooed away. They also sang on January 10 for the visiting H6 grade, who were being shown a preview of Garfield life.

JOAN HOWELL.

GARFIELD BAND

The Garfield Band has been very active this term, playing at football rallies, for the school on special events, etc. Mr. Mynzyk worked up a special arrangement of "Come Join the Band" in honor of Mr. Corley. The band practiced hard this term and it was something that the students of Garfield are proud to speak of as a true showing of what they can accomplish. JOAN HOWELL.

When the clock struck the midnight hour, father came to the head of the stairs, and in a rather loud tone of voice said, "Young man, is your self-starter out of order tonight?"

"It doesn't matter," returned Charles Laughlin, "as long as there's a crank in the house."

BOYS' GLEE

The Boys' Glee consists of boys with unchanged voices in the seventh and eighth grades. Its present membership is fifty-two.

The present president is Karl Potter, who is also a soloist as well as Henry Bakken, Bob Smith, Dick Fuery, and Harold Harter.

The Glee Club was accompanied by Eddie Meyers.

Two programs have been given, one for the P.-T. A. on November 5, 1940, the other on January 10, 1941, for the incoming low sevens.

ORCHESTRA

This term the Orchestra, under the able leadership of Mr. Mynzyk, did quite a bit of practicing. Everybody worked hard and did a good piece of work at the Graduation. This term they also played for the P.-T. A. The selections were enjoyed very much.

RUTH JOHNSON.

Sunday School Teacher: "Can anyone tell me where Noah lived?"

Harley Webster: "I don't think he had a regular home. I guess he and his family belonged to the floating population."

Mrs. Smith: "Have you ever had any stage experience?"

Jeanie Meers: "Well, I had my leg in a cast once."

Mrs. Gavin: "Everyone must learn by beginning at the bottom. There are no exceptions to this rule."

Doris White: "None at all?"

Mrs. Gavin: "No."

Doris: "How about swimming?"

SPORTS

NOON LEAGUES

Garfield is the only Junior High School in Berkeley that carries on a very successful noon league. There has been very close competition between various grade groups this semester. This term they played Volleyball and Basketball. Next term they will play Basketball, Pass Ball, and Soft-ball.

VOLLEYBALL

During the fall semester, there is only one interschool activity. It is Volleyball. There is an interclass series of games. The winner of them represents Garfield against Burbank and Willard. This semester the H9's and H8's won their interclass series of games to represent Garfield. In our interschool games Garfield again won the city championship. The games results were:

H9's
Garfield — 15	Willard — 8
Garfield — 15	Willard — 12
Garfield — 15	Burbank — 7
Garfield — 15	Burbank — 7
H8's
Garfield — 15	Willard — 11
Garfield — 15	Willard — 13
Garfield — 15	Burbank — 10
Garfield — 15	Burbank — 10

Garfield won a return match with Burbank and closed the season with a game with the Y. M. C. A. A successful season was due to the height of the players and the ability to master the "boost and kill system".

BASKETBALL

Following the close of the Volleyball season, we started Basketball practice with some good material trying out for all the various teams. The H9 team twice defeated Burbank. The scores were:

Garfield — 24	Burbank — 14
Garfield — 20	Burbank — 6

The H9's will not be here during the regular Basketball season, but their places will be well taken care of by fellows like Jim Ellis, Kenneth Gardner, Neale Tveitmoe, Roger Johnson, and many others. Our regular Basketball season with other junior high schools will start in February. Several practice games have been held with the Albany B team and the St. Mary's B team. Also with various combinations of Garfield's alumni. Three of these games have been won by Garfield. The scores were:

Garfield — 36	Alumni — 34
Garfield — 39	Alumni — 30
Garfield — 37	Alumni — 33

We regret that we bid farewell to the H9 athletes and wish them every success in their athletic endeavors in the future.

ALBERT KASS, H9.

GIRLS' ATHLETICS

H9—The H9 girls first played the L9 girls to determine who would play Willard. The H9's won the games. They also won the games from Willard and Burbank. They were the H9 Volleyball champions.

L9—The L9's played the H9's but lost the game, so they did not play Willard or Burbank.

H8—The H8's played Willard and Burbank. They won both games from Willard but lost one to Burbank.

L8—The H8's and L8's played each other to see who played Willard and Burbank. The H8's won, so the L8's did not play.

H7—The H7's did not play either Willard or Burbank.

L7—The L7's did not play either Willard or Burbank.

ASSISTANTS

STUDENT LEADERS

In every school there is a certain amount of disorder in the passing of students between classes. Garfield, however, keeps this under control through its student leaders and student leader captains. Every six weeks the student leaders change so that each high nine has a chance to be one. This term Garfield has had an excellent group of student leaders and student leader captains.

STUDENT ASSISTANTS

Each student in Garfield has an opportunity at some time or other to become a student assistant. These student assistants aid in the work of the office, counsellor's office, library, attendance office, public address system, nurse's office, lock and locker distribution, and flag raising. They have done a swell job.

VERA STOECKLE.

If a man falls from a roof what does he fall against? His will.

What is it that you can keep after giving it to somebody else? Your word.

What's the difference between 1 yard and 2 yards?

A fence.

What's more wonderful than a horse that can count?

A spelling bee.

Shirley Plummer was asked to parse the word "kiss" and this was her result: "This word is a noun, but it is usually used as a conjunction. It is never declined and is more common than proper. It is not very singular, in that it is generally used in the plural. It agrees with me."

1940 GARFIELD JUNIOR CRAFT CLUB

It is conceded that more emphasis on training in manual skills and handicraft is necessary as part of education and is good for the national defense program.

Thus, in 1936, with these ideas in mind, Miss Lowrey organized the Craft Club. The club has been a source of pleasure for 225 boys and girls who enjoy working with their hands.

As a special project this fall we have made models of the national defense program such as model planes, gliders, ships, machine guns, and tanks. These were displayed January 20th. We believe in building better and stronger shelled Americans for a better and stronger Democracy.

Ronald: "What a crowd! Something happen?"

Donald: "Man fell off the roof."

Ronald: "Hurt bad?"

Donald: "Can't tell. Only found one leg so far."

What is it that never asks questions but always gets answered? Doorbell.

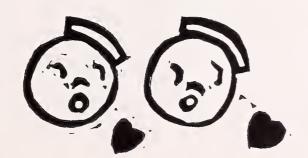

Margie Street: "When is a doctor most annoyed?"

Stanley Schulze: "When he is out of patients."

What color would you paint the wind and rain? The wind rose and the rain blue.

"Francis," said Mrs. Farquhar, "I wish you would run across the street and see how old Mrs. Brown is this morning." A few minutes later Francis returned and reported, "Mrs. Brown says it's none of your business how old she is."

What's the difference between an old penny and a new dime? 9c.

"I don't want any callers this afternoon," said Mr. Lawson to the office boy. "If they say their business is important, just tell them that's what they all say."

That afternoon a lady called and insisted upon seeing Mr. Lawson.

"I'm his wife," she exclaimed.

"That's what they all say," said the office boy.

A Chinese had a toothache and phoned a dentist for an appointment.

"Two-thirty all right?" asked the doctor.

"Yes," replied the Chinese. "Tooth hurtee, all right. What time I come?"

The question in the physiology examination read: "How may one obtain a good posture?"

The country boy wrote: "Keep the cows off it and let it grow up awhile."

A patient complained to the doctor that his hair was coming out.

"Won't you give me something to keep it in?" he begged.

"Take this," the doctor said kindly, and he handed the patient a pill box.

The family had planned a picnic for the next day and Dick Huddlestone was asked by his mother to see what the paper predicted for the weather.

After searching the paper he said: "Well, they haven't decided yet. It says here, 'Weather for Wednesday, unsettled."

"Herbert Jotter, I wish you'd learn better table manners; you're a regular little pig at the table."

Deep silence on Herb's part. So father, in order to impress him more, added: "I say, Herbert, do you know what a pig is?"

"Yes, sir," replied Herbert meekly, "it's a hog's little boy."

Joan Howell: "What is the first thing a man plants in his garden?"

Connie Lee: "His foot."

Harry Close: "What is it that you cannot hold five minutes, yet is light as a feather?"

Gloria Knight: "Your breath."

Helen Baker: "Why is the Fourth of July like an oyster?"

Pete Ostrander: "Because you cannot enjoy it without crackers."

Margy Head: "Would you like to get rid of your bad complexion?"

Bernice Hink: "Yes."

Margy: "Wash the spots off of your mirror."

Marilynn Paterson (to tramp): "I know you. You're one of the tramps I gave a pie to last summer."

Bob Hanson (tramp): "You're right, madam. You gave it to the three of us. I am the sole survivor."

lst little boy: "I forgot to ask you to my picnic party tomorrow."

2nd little boy: "Too late now. I've prayed for a blizzard!"

Pat Fry: "Why I'm sorry to hear that. How did Pete Ostrander die?"

Allyn Smith: "He fell through some scaffolding."

Pat Fry: "What was he doing up there?"

Allyn: "Being hanged."

Mrs. Bagnall (as Art enters room): "What time is it?"

Art Hager: "Just one o'clock."

Mrs. Bagnall (as clock strikes three): "Dear me, how that clock stutters."

What table has no legs to stand one? Time table.

Nurse (to Jack Lamborn): "Say 'Ah' so the doctor can get his hand out of your mouth."

Jeanette Lingard: "June, we have breakfast promptly at 8:00 A.M."

June Wilkerson: "All right, ma'am, if I ain't down don't you all wait."

Paul Larson: "Say, is your dog clever?"

Nancy Reid: "Clever! I should say so. When I say, 'Are you coming or aren't you?' he comes or he doesn't."

Howard Glaeser crosses his carrier pigeons with parrots so that when they get lost they could ask their way home.

Charles Steele: "Meet me at the Waldorf Astoria at eight."

Nancy Clapham: "The Waldorf—say, that's a nice place."

Charles: "Yeah, and it's close to where we're going to."

Telegraph message to lawyer: "Justice has triumphed.—Guy Helmke."

Telegraph reply from lawyer: "Appeal immediately."

Miss Patton: "What was Columbus' motto?" Bill Clarke: "More miles to the galleon."

Susan Scotchler: "How do they get the water in the watermelon?"

Donald Lengel: "They plant the seeds in the spring."

In Montana there is a town named Eurelia. Trainmen often differ as to the pronunciation of the name. Passengers are often startled upon arriving at the station to hear the conductor yell:

"You're a liar! You're a liar!"

Then from the brakeman at the other end comes the cry:

"You really are! You really are!"
